2009-2010 NSLDS HISTORY

STUDENT NAME (print) UNLV L# .

When you completed your 2009-2010 Free Application for Federal Student Aid the Department of Education attempted to match your application with records from the National Student Loan Database (NSLDS). However, either your name or your date of birth did not match the current NSLDS record. There are several reasons why this may have occurred. You are advised to contact your previous lenders and schools to reconcile the information with NSLDS.

Your NSLDS record is available to you online at http://www.nslds.ed.gov.

Please complete the following information and instructions so we may continue to process your aid application. All processing of your aid application has stopped until you complete and return this form.

Please contact our office if you have questions regarding this process.

Sincerely,

Financial Aid & Scholarships
